BRANDS PASTOR AS BIG MENACE

Leland Believes It Duty to Expose Dr. Case

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Branding the Rev. Carl D. Case as a menace to "sacred homes," Albert R. Leland, who named the pastor as co-respondent in his suit for divorce today demanded that Dr. Case be driven from the ministry.

"I consider it my duty to my faith as a Christian and to my creed as a pastor to expose such men as Dr. Case out of the church," Leland declared.

"I tried to be silent," Leland said, "but I must not be given another chance to do to other men and women what he has done to me and my wife."

Leland who told through tears of his wife's confession, accused the deacons of the First Baptist church of a plot to "whitewash" the pastor of complicity in his wife's misconduct. He charged that they tried to "bribe him to say that his wife was insane."

Calm and unperturbed, Mrs. Leland went to go on the stand. She held up by her firm belief that "God has me by His hand. He will not desert me in time of adversity."

A plain little woman, modestly dressed, she sat with bowed head before the gaze of the crowded court room waiting her turn to take the stand. She will admit with swelling tears, she said, that she broke her marriage vows in order that the Rev. Case, whom she says is "morally guilty," will suffer equally.

Closely by her side sits her 17-year-old son, almost hopelessly puzzled by the strange drama in which his father and mother are chief characters.

Pastor Leland says the Rev. Case, 40, is well past middle age. His eyes are dim and his body is shaken by the tragedy that has come upon him. Slender, dark, he holds a small trumpet to his ear and strains to catch every word that is spoken by the witnesses.

Around the pastoral family, crowded closely in the small court room, stand the deacons and elders of the church. The official church board.

TWO SHOALS OFFERS BEFORE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Two offers to produce fertilizer at Muscle Shoals were formally laid before the House military affairs committee today.

One was the offer of the Union Carbide company, New York, to make 100,000 tons of fertilizer a year, the company to pay $1,650,000 yearly rental for the plant and purchase of the power.

The other was a proposal to make 50,000 tons of fixed nitrogen a year, to be sold to farmers at 8 per cent profit. It was submitted by the Southern Power companies associated with the Alabama Power company.

He Would Prevent Removal of Shoes While on Trains

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 25.—Enactment of a rule prohibiting passengers on Texas trains from removing their shoes while in a passenger coach is demanded in a letter to the railroad commission.

The writer declared that recently he was traveling on a Texas train and he observed that several passengers were removing their shoes while in a passenger coach. The writer, a passenger, asserted, indicated that the "affected feet had not been in a bath tub for a week or more."

A CROSS-CUT INTO POLITICS

J. P. Morgan Buys Marland Stock

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—President Marland of the Marland Oil company announced today the company has sold to J. P. Morgan and Company 300,000 shares of its stock, heretofore unlisted.

"The company also, 'in return for substantial cash consideration' has given an option to the same firm on an additional amount of its shares," Marland said. It is understood the option covers 225,000 shares.

While attempts for the Rev. Case are expected to endeavor to prove the woman of unusual mind and therefore not responsible for her confession, Mrs. Leland is happy because of the testimony of Dr. Thor Rotherham, an atheist who yesterday told the court the last given Mrs. Leland a thorough examination and could not say that she is insane.

"This woman is highly emotional and intensely religious," he said, "I believe she would be easily influenced, especially by such a person as her pastor. But her mind is clear and sound."

Leland in his testimony told of extracting from his wife a confession of infidelity with Rev. Case. He said that his wife admitted "going as far as five times" with the pastor. Rev. Case denies all the charges.

PACIFIST WRITER RETIRES TO ISLAND

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Thoroughly disgusted with the outlook for Europe, Norman Angell, the well known pacifist writer, has "purchased" a tiny island off the east coast of England, and plans to retire there, far from the "lunatic fringe" of the continent.

Texas Woman Turned Yellow as a Pumpkin

Face Covered With Pimples, Mrs. Roberts Takes Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup And Is Now Looking and Feeling Fine

"If you had seen me a few months ago you would have thought I had jaundice, for my skin was as yellow as a pumpkin," said Mrs. L. Roberts, living at 1601 Young Street, Dallas, Texas.

"I suffered dreadfully from indigestion, my food soured on my stomach, bloated me up with gas and kept me in misery for hours after eating. I must have been full of bile, as my complexion was something awful, and my face covered with pimples."

"I had an unpleasant bitter taste in my mouth and dull headaches would come on and rage for hours. All I could hardly see. I had a stubborn case of constipation that I could not get over. Why, I have been so at times that I was really alarmed about my condition."

"I was advised to try Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, and simply did wonders in relieving my troubles. My first bottle put an end to that awful constipation and I have had no trouble that way since. My indigestion, too, is gone, and I can eat anything I want without being troubled afterwards with sourness or gas. My complexion has cleared up and I am now feeling fine."

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by leading druggists.

LAKES TO GULF PROJECT PUSHED

1934 May See 3,000 Miles Added to Coastline

Nineteen hundred and thirty-four will see Californians boarding ships in San Francisco and Los Angeles for Chicago.

Seattle lumber will be carried by water from Puget Sound to Cleveland. And products of the midwest and east will be loaded on ocean-going vessels along the Mississippi River and Great Lakes for all parts of the world.

This is the prediction of organizations now working on projects which will, in effect, increase the shore line of the United States 3,000 miles.

Backers of these projects forecast a complete revolution in American transportation methods, lower costs of shipment, elimination of rebalancing and therefore stimulation of demand for all middle west products.

"St. Lawrence Project" is the designation given the plan to make Great Lake points ocean ports.

"Gulf-to-Lake" is the plan by which the Mississippi Valley Association and the Illinois Waterways Commission seek to open the Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio and Illinois Rivers to seagoing vessels.

Fifty miles of rapids along the upper stretches of the St. Lawrence River is nature's barrier between the Great Lakes and the ocean. The projected international improvement would provide a channel 25 feet deep from the Great Lakes to salt water by a series of locks and dams around these rapids.

The cost is estimated at $232,728,000. The electric power to be developed at the dams is expected to maintain rail, eventually, to pay the cost. Also, it will stimulate traffic through providing cheap power for manufacturing.

At the outset, 1000 miles of rail-road transportation and handling of goods in costly, congested terminals is eliminated. The route puts the vessel in tidewater at Montreal, 400 miles nearer Liverpool than is New York.

Without this improvement, a 212-foot vessel, the Back Bay, successfully made a trip from Seattle, Wash., on the Pacific Coast, to Chicago, on Lake Michigan.

Completion of the MacArthur Lock, first of five similar locks to be built by the Illinois Waterways Commission, marks another big stride in the plan to give Lake Michigan and the Mississippi River ocean traffic.

The state of Illinois is expending $20,000,000 to make the Illinois and Des Moines Rivers navigable. It is also opening manufacturing possibilities through generation of electric power at these dams and locks.

The government, through the Mississippi Valley Association, is asked to spend $90,000,000 on the other features of making the Mississippi one of the world's greatest water highways. A nine-foot channel, 200 feet wide is sought in the Illinois and Mississippi Rivers to permit wider use of the federal barge system, by which huge tonnages of freight, loaded on barges, is moved with ease by one small steamer, at extremely low cost.

Ruckliff pleaded not guilty in an earlier suit to statutory charges. Although he made an impression on Judge C. A. Fowler for the release of his wife, held in jail here on a statutory charge, William Steenblock, husband of the woman and uncle of Ruckliff, failed to obtain her release.

COX BLAMED IN BLUEBIRD DEAL

Promoter Fathered Idea of Merging Companies

HOUSTON, Jan. 25.—Blame for any fraudulent dealings in connection with the merger of eleven similar companies into the Bluebird Oil company and sale of stock in the huge concern today had been placed upon S. E. J. Cox.

Cox Urged Merger. Butler Perryman, president of the Bluebird company, testifying in the trial of Cox and E. O. Glenn on mail fraud charges here last night, stated that Cox was the father of the idea to merge the companies and that Cox wrote the letters and circulars that sold the stock.

Perryman stated that Cox first came to him with the merger idea and that he did not broach the subject himself. Though circulars and letters were signed by Perryman and other officials of the company, Cox wrote them all, he said.

Cook at Fort Worth, who was sentenced to 14 years in prison and fined. Cox was also given eight years in jail and a heavy fine for his sales work for Cook.

Disclosure of additional details of the huge oil company merger and stock selling plans were to be made at today's session of the trial.

MAN ABLE TO WALK AFTER 400-FOOT FALL

ARREST OF YOUTHS SOLVES MANY THEFTS

HOUSTON, Jan. 27.—Arrest of four 18 year old youths has solved a number of during thefts and holdups here recently, authorities believed today.

The boys were taken into custody yesterday as they lay in a rooming house. Taken by surprise they did not have time to use revolvers lying on the bed beside them.

CHEAP 'JUICE' EXPERT'S PLAN

Would Make Electricity Too Plentiful For Meters

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Light your home, cook your meals, wash and iron your clothes, run your sewing machine and clean your house—

All by electricity, for less than a dollar a month! Get electrically the equivalent of 120 hired men on your farm, for 69 cents a day!

Electricity Cheap. With electricity so cheap that it will not pay to install meters and keep accounts!

Coupling a moderate play of imagination with engineering facts, Carl D. Thompson presents this as the outcome of the "super-power project." Thompson is secretary of the Public Ownership League of America. One of its goals is mobilization of all available electric power in the United States and Canada into one public owned system.

Thoroughly Practical. "Is it practical?" Thompson counters that question. "It is demonstrated reality already. The rates of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, Canada, is proof. More than a million customers of this system use current at an average cost of 1-1/2 cents per kilowatt hour. In American cities, we average three times that much."

"Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario system, fought until this became a reality. He is active now as president of the Public Ownership League, in making a unit of power production in the two countries."

Super-power means simply more and cheaper electricity supplied from a unit system which generates by both horsepower and steam plants.

Nearly 20,000,000 horsepower now running away down our stream beds would be harnessed into the system. Coal, instead of being hauled in bulk, would turn dynamos at the mine mouth and send out its energy by wire.

Federal Federal Commission. A federal super-power commission to direct and control the development is the first step to realize the dream, says Thompson. It would not only develop generating plants but lay out main trunk lines for distribution of current. The 2218 municipally owned electric plants, some of them in every American state, would be the starting points to be linked into the new system.

For hydro electric production, at least, would center upon the Colorado, Columbia and Mississippi River systems, and Niagara Falls and the St. Lawrence River. Muscle Shoals would be kept under public control, completed and placed in service. Next would be the Boulder Canyon dam on the Colorado River, for which a bill already has been introduced in Congress. That dam would be 900 feet high, cost $40,000,000, furnish 750 continuous horse-power and irrigate 1,000,000 acres.

Finance Problem Slumps Education

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—America sold itself years ago on the idea of universal education, but it never realized until the last few years what a gigantic sum it was going to cost.

It means a vast increase in expenditure, taxation until it hurts, reports President Frank L. McVey of the University of Kentucky. "Every state university I know of is crowded to its capacity," says McVey.

"Incomes and buildings have been enlarged, but they have not kept pace with the number of students. The expense of education for the individual student has been materially reduced in the last five years. Unless the trend is checked, that will result in a serious lessening in value of instruction received."

There are three ways to improve the situation, according to McVey. First, increase fees, so that students themselves will bear a larger proportion of the cost.

Second, establish junior colleges and local academies for freshmen and sophomore instruction, and let universities concentrate on advanced work.

Third, raise standards, requiring deeper and more thorough work for both admission and graduation, thereby eliminating the unit and the differential.

"I believe both the first and third plans will be included in the final solution," declares McVey.

WOMAN GIVEN DEATH PENALTY

Found Guilty of Murder of Mother-in-Law

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Ida Hughes faced death by hanging today for shooting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Hughes, was found guilty of first-degree murder by a jury here, the verdict automatically carrying the death sentence.

She will be the third white woman to be executed in Georgia.

Two others who were sentenced received pardons. Mrs. Hughes shot and killed Mrs. McHugh, her aged mother-in-law, while the latter, accompanied by two policemen, was searching a trunk for her possessions. The defense contended that a variant under which Mrs. Hughes was searching was illegal and that the daughter-in-law shot in defense of her home.

Mrs. Hughes, the condemned woman's husband, said he was sure his mother was killed but commuted his wife's act.

Quite Fair. "Oh, constable, I feel so mean. What's the matter, modern, have you verged?"

"Oh yes, constable, about two made 'em—Mollie and Punch."

MANGLED BODY ON TRACKS IDENTIFIED

STANTON, Texas, Jan. 25.—The body of a man found dead on the Texas and Pacific railway tracks here has been positively identified as that of Otis Lee Wilkerson, of Los Angeles. The identification was made by Mrs. G. L. Kerr, sister of the dead man.

Bitter Feud Ends in Local Arena With Actor Victorious

Port Arthur's Flash Resorts to Jap Arm Lock to End Match

Rentrop Displays Scientific Tactics and Uses Houston Split to Advantage, But Famous Hurt Hold Writes Finis for Visitor

By Bill Archer

INFINITE knowledge of one hold is better than varied knowledge of a dozen.

George Vassel Actor, "Pride of Port Arthur," proved this point definitely last night in Elks theater, when, in a sensational finish match against Charlie Rentrop, Little Rock ace, the local prodigy crushed the European light-heavyweight champion the best two of three falls for a victory.

George concentrated his efforts on the famous "Actor Special," better known to ring generals and followers as the Japanese arm-lock. Rentrop, fast, wary, furious in the pinches, unrelenting in his efforts, tangled himself at random about the lithe body of the Greek star, using a medley of excellent holds, preferring the "Houston Split" developed by the late Pat Brown to bring Actor to law. But Actor, ever watchful of his chances, took head of the visitor's assaults long enough to crumple in a heap, hurt, bent in a lone fall, to return viciously exerting every muscle in the Jap hurt hold that won for him.

ONE HOLD WINS MATCH

If wasn't a one-sided match. It was anything but that. Rentrop was "in there" from the start of the time-keeper's challenge and Rentrop made Actor like a lot of the tricks he produced from the bag he had dragged along from his Little Rock lair.

In fact, Rentrop displayed a whirlwind style of science that completely surprised the Port City ace for a period. But in the end, the indomitable endurance of the Grecian grappler and his unique development of the arm-lock specially settled the grudge which for three years has held a gulf between the two men.

MORE LAURELS FOR FORT

It was the best bill promoter Fort has presented. It was another rung higher in the annals of local athletic achievement, and Fort is to be congratulated on his engineering ability. It won't be long—the time is here now—when the name Fort will brand a match as par-excellent.

When the husky giants tore into each other in the opening round, Actor resorted almost instantly to the gruelling headlock with which he has crushed so many excellent grapplers here. But last night, as when he met Frank Ojile, Actor's head vise needed glue; it didn't stick to Rentrop long, for the Little Rock artist with single plunges placed Actor at arm's length repeatedly. Thirteen minutes the first fall had gone on the dial of the watches when Rentrop suddenly twisted the Greek's legs apart and clamped on all the leverage available. Actor gave up.

TABLES TURN TO ACTOR

Actor came back with more determination, and they mixed it as they milled about the canvass on the stage. Vainly for 45 minutes the two wrestlers struggled into and out of sensational contortions, scrambled wildly to their feet and went at it for more. And then something happened. It happened when Actor slyly slipped the visiting ace's left arm at just the proper height, whirled his own leg skyward, and held Rentrop helplessly in the Japanese lock. Rentrop patted Actor on the back in recognition of defeat, and the time-keeper chimed "30 minutes and 30 seconds."

RENTROP'S ARM WEAKENED

Rentrop's arm was plainly giving him pain when he left the arena.

As they appeared for the third fall, it was coffee to doughnuts that Actor would resort to the arm lock again, and the stanza had hardly begun when he local star did just that thing. Two of them were futile; a headlock dropped the visitor to his side, the left arm spun up, Actor's feet and legs soared skyward. The Jap arm lock, with all its misery, all its pain, was on again—on in full blast. Fans began rising from their seats, ladies put on their wraps, others moved toward the door—and Rentrop went down, vanquished.

Hundreds of wild shouting and enthusiasm surged into the ring acclaiming the victor of one of the most sensational wrestling contests Port Arthur has witnessed, filled with bitterness, keen to the limit of action, spiced with near lawsuits frequently, as Rentrop explained he had wrestled against the advice of physician. But the match was over—the mat dip east.

EXPECTS BIG YEAR FOR JONES

Huggins Predicts Sam Will Keep Standing

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Managers Miller Huggins of the Yankees predicts that pitcher Sam Jones will have one of the best years of his career the coming season.

Jones, who was somewhat of a disappointment in 1922 with the team-winning Yankees, came back strong last season. He was one of the mainstays of the club throughout the race, pitching consistently good ball.

Late in the year Jones came through with a no-hit game. In the world series he pitched brilliantly against the Giants, only to lose, 1 to 0, when Casey Stengel pulled a high fly into the right field bleachers for a homer at the Yankee stadium.

"Jones is a master worker," says Huggins. "No pitcher in either league has more poise than Sam."

The possession of great control, Sam often makes the mistake of pitching too carefully, in the slang of baseball, getting the ball too good. It is when Jones loosens up and pitches with a careless style that he becomes effective. When he is just a bit wild he is much harder to hit. His speed is just enough to keep the batter from digging in and making a healthy swing.

"I am confident next year should be a big one for Jones. At least I am pulling that way."

Bill Gets Restless, Packs Duds, Leaves For Training Ground

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Bill Kilmer, the Cubs' manager and tactical genius, got restless Thursday, journeyed out to the north side ball grounds and started packing up for Catalina Island, where the team will train.

Although the battery contingent, which Bill will pilot west, will not depart for three weeks, and only 22 men will receive transportation to the camp, Kilmer just couldn't wait to get their things ready. He stowed away ninety uniforms, fifty dozen baseballs and 100 bats.

TOO MANY MANAGERS
Senior Spalla is heavily burdened with managers. Here in America a cadre of gents profess to be his business representatives. With these men Promoter Rickard entered into an agreement by which Spalla was to meet Gene Tunney, light heavyweight champion, at an early date. Now comes word that Spalla's European managers have matched him with Firpo in South America.

NEED SECOND SACKER

WILL COACH PITCHERS
Ed Walsh, famous pitcher of other days, will probably be used by Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago White Sox as coach for the "young" pitchers.

To Appear Here in February

HARRY MAMOS

Boston, Mass., Greek light-heavyweight sensation who last night stepped in the arena at Elks theater long enough to interrupt the tranquility of things in general with a challenge to the winner of last evening's match between George Actor and Charlie Rentrop. In view of the rest cure Actor is undergoing, Mamos will probably appear here February 6th with Rentrop as his opponent.

Prizefight Powers Frown On Jack-Rolling, Robbery And Other Ring Pursuits

By United Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—In its new venue and dignity, the prize fight business has decided to frown on a formal and official from upon the professions of bookmaking, betting, jack-rolling, swindling, peevishness and all kindred pursuits.

The new object of the alliance, to be formally announced at a big meeting next Sunday night, is to provide an official voice for professional sports; to unite all interests in one organization for their general advancement and protection; to promote more harmonious conditions among promoters, participants, managers and civil and state bodies.

"Its outstanding aim," says the prospectus, "is to keep all sports, particularly boxing, which is most assailed, clean; and to enforce good faith and fair dealing with the public. No boxer, promoter or manager, who once transgresses the standards set by the alliance will have a second opportunity to reduce his profession for no member will be permitted to engage with the offender."

Sporting Ku Klux Klan

The National Sports Alliance, composed in the main of fight managers and promoters, has appointed itself a sort of sporting Ku Klux Klan to burn the fiery doublecross in the doorway of miscreant members of the craft. Contrary to the old code of the fight profession, the evidence will not be compelled to divulge his boot with those who catch him looting but will be sent out of the prize-fight profession, which is believed to equal the world's record in degradation.

The alliance may be relied on to go into this campaign on righteous legs with cruel and unusual enthusiasm because of a lamentable experience which befell the treasury a short time ago. It seems that some

NOTRE DAME STAR

Notre Dame claims another athletic celebrity. This time it's on the basketball court. His name is Crowe. He's forward. And according to the Irish supporters he is a coming luminary. In the recent game with Michigan, Crowe was the big man, and it was mainly through his sensational work that the South Bend troupe sprang a bit of a surprise by whipping Michigan. Crowe, indeed, will bear watching.

MR. TILDEN, MOVIE ACTOR!

MR. BILL CHAPMAN

By JOE WILLIAMS
Mr. William Tilden II is headed for the movies. Whether the recent edict barring tennis players from writing pieces for the daily journals had anything to do with this decision is unknown.

All we know is that Bill, big pardner, William Tilden II, is determined to stay in the film. The tennis champion is not without experience of skill as an entertainer. Only recently he played with the famous Providence players in Booth Tarkington's "Clarence," portraying the name role.

MR. BILL HAMLET

A cloak of mystery has been thrown about Tilden's screen future. Will he go in for humor of the light, delicate, exquisite type as practiced, say, by Mr. Charles Chaplin, of the junior-size mustache and the loose, free-hanging pantaloons? Or will the latter and more magnificent forms of tragedy prove to be the champion's forte? A great Hamlet he would make.

"To be or not to be; that is the question."

Deveroux Milburn to Lead American Polo Squad in International Cup Clash

By United Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Deveroux Milburn, world's greatest polo player, in the saddle when he was 11 years of age and a "champion" at 15, will lead the American team that is to defend the international cup against the British challengers here next September.

Only two players are certain of places on the team and they are Milburn and Tommy Hitchcock Jr., whose place dropped behind the German lines during the war and who escaped imprisonment by jumping from a speeding train and crawling to Switzerland.

Other famous players who are to be picked from J. Watson Webb, Major Al Wilson, the army's greatest star, Raymond Belmont, Morgan Belmont, Malcolm Stevenson and Robert Strawbridge.

These names are more familiar to the society circles than they are to the general sports columns and while it has been announced that two places on the team are open to "all comers" there is little possibility for a plebeian to break in. None but patricians can afford to play polo.

Hardy Payne Whitney who lead the team that brought the cup back to this country in 1900 and which defended it successfully in 1911 and 1912 will act on the selection committee. Money and Larry Waterbury, who played on those famous teams are out of competition and Milburn is the only survivor of that first and famous "big four."

COUCH, LEROY STAGE CLASH

Bitter Stuff Spices Program 45 Minutes

Spicing the program last night in Elks theater was the whiff of preliminary of the athletic world. Young Jesse Couch and Leroy LeMayers, both Port Arthur 160-pounders, went 45 minutes, to a draw in a classy battle that brought the shouting fans' peevishness to a boil.

Both contestants were aggressors from the start, and twice during the melee, which was scheduled for a fall, it appeared that both would gain the victory.

In the last five minutes of the clash, Couch exhibited some rare ability in wriggling out of a grueling footlock which LeMayers had clamped with double tenacity for 10 long minutes. They were on the mats with Couch leading the battle when the going ended their row.

It is probable the artists, both of whom claim the city crown in the 160-pound class, will be matched at an early time for a finish contest here. Both showed considerable form and ability last evening.

SARAZENS WERE GOOD

The Sarazens will remember 1923 kindly. Gene, the goffer, was the only champion to repeat his 1922 success in a major tournament, while his handsome, the two-year-old runner, was the only undebated thoroughbred of the year.

THE NUT CRACKER

We are not surprised to read that Firpo sleeps on the floor. As a matter of fact, most of Dempsey's opponents do.

This Jockey Parle, who never loses a race, may be first in peace and first in war, but he's absolutely last in the hearts of the hoodlums.

A boxing expert confesses that Johnny Wilson is not a Ketchel. We suppose he'd admit, if pressed, that Bud Fisher isn't a Rembrandt, either.

A Kansas City man ate 50 miles of spaghetti and now they call him a champion. Probably because he can stand so much body punishment.

As a Norwegian, Molla Mallory will have to play against America in the Olympic matches. And so many it almost seemed as if she were playing against America when she met Suzanne.

Even if the British champion did wind up in a thirty-ninth place in the California golf tourney he was on his feet at the finish. . . . and that's more than you usually get to say about a British champion.

Pitcher Shocker, who was suspended for taking his wife on a baseball trip, has been reinstated. . . . Much to the disgust of other married pitchers who are thus deprived of a legitimate excuse.

We read that America's chances of winning the Olympic ski jumps are very slim. . . . If you are easily moved to emotion go over in a corner and sob over that.

Headline warbles: "Warmed Glams' Boon: Three Years, Released." . . . Another romance shattered.

Pittsburgh has tied the timeworn doubleheader Leavitt. . . . We are not in a position to state whether he is one of those fellows who can levitate or talk.

Methuselah lived to be 962 years old. . . . If you live to be that old you may see the day when a baseball manager will actually refuse to be interviewed.

You can now learn misanthropy by correspondence. . . . Or, if you prefer, you can go to Hollywood and join the movies.

An English lightweight made his American debut the other night and wasn't knocked out. Showing that the uncertainty of life are beyond all human understanding.

As a tribute to his success in winning the convention to New York the democrats sought to make their party slogan read, "Thank God for Richard, he has kept us out of St. Louis."

Still if the thing comes to an out-and-out showdown we imagine it will be quite possible to hold the Olympiad without either Padlock or the A. A. U. officials.

Skating Rink Hit Hard By Thaw Out

CHAMPAIGN, France, Jan. 25.—With the skating rink and snow slides almost wrecked by thaws, opening of the Olympic games here tomorrow seems dubious.

The skating rink is soft and sloppy and slides for the bobbed and ski contests have melted down almost to mush. Athletes of the 19 nations entered in the winter sports have had previously no preparatory work and are willing to accept a postponement for better weather. Officials of the French Olympic committee have had hundreds of snow hauled down from the mountains to cover up the bare spots in the slide and while it has been made fairly good for practice it hardly can be used for real competition.

In trials yesterday, the Norwegian ski jumpers made some jumps of more than 120 feet after taking off a jumping pitch with a run of only 100 feet.

IT RAINED BASKETS

Bentonville (Ind.) high school has a basketball quater. In a game the other night the little Bentonville gang beat Gings high school. Gings, by the way, didn't even dispute the victory. Oh! The score was 122 to 15. Thompson, star center for the Bentonville aggregation, tossed 31 field goals.

RITZY MR. MOORE

Sports editors who received new year's cards from Pal Moore, the Memphis basketball star, can now appreciate what it means to be a basketball owner in the Chicago taxi cab business. The fighter's card was ornately embossed and set off with a silver seal, bearing the battler's very own signature.

Will Direct Tennis

GEORGE W. WIGHTMAN
The new chief of the United States Lawn Tennis Association will be George W. Wightman of Boston. Wightman was recently named for the position by the nominating committee. His appointment is a mere formality. Wightman, long active in the affairs of the association, will replace Dwight Davis.

NO BLOCKED KICKS

Harry Kipke, Michigan's stellar football player, didn't have one of his points blocked throughout the 1923 season. Harry played in all of his team's eight contests and was called upon to kick on an average of 10 times to the friends. "Plus, in about 80 attempts or so, the Wolverines got off a good boot every time. Some record, considering that many punters will have one or more of their kicks blocked in nearly every game."

DENTIST IN WINTER

JOIE RAY OUT TO BEAT MILER

Entered With 18 in Track Clash Tonight

By United Press
CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Joie Ray, dean of middle-distance runners, worked out Thursday on the army track where he will compete tonight in the Illinois Athletic Club meet. Ray, bursting with confidence, is entered in three events. He will start from scratch with Ray Watson, former Kansas state star, in the one mile handicap run. The greatest allowance for this mile will be 150 yards. Eighteen entries are recorded. Ray and Watson also will be scratched men in the 1000 yard open handicap, in which some of the best known runners in the west will appear. Joie also will run in the two-mile open.

KOPPISCH OF COLUMBIA

Walter Koppisch, Columbia's star athlete, has just been elected captain of the football eleven for the third straight season. The honor is indeed unique in collegiate athletic circles. Now and then the game chap will lead his school two years in succession, but to be so honored three times running is something else again. Koppisch is also captain of this season's track team.

Don't worry about me - I showed some of the wise birds that I use my head for other things besides a hay stand - I was thinking while a lot of people were talking - I just happen to have that golden touch - I understand enough about finance to know all the 'marks' are not in Germany -

"The next riddle," said the Riddle Lady, "is something you can't cut or see or hear, or smell or touch or taste! That is unless the Sandman or the Dream Maker are nearby, or you have some sort of magic with you. Now see who can guess?"

"They cling to the gleams, of gold moonbeams. And climb to a starry height, When down they coast, A tumbling host, Shrieking with shrill delight."

"If they'll tell me this secret, I'd try so to keep it! Do they ever have company to tea? They'd go and I'd call, And I'd talk to them all, And perhaps they'd say something to me."

"Is it caterpillars?" asked Bo Peep. "Or spiders? They live in posy flowers sometimes and drink dew and everything like that!"

"The very idea!" said Contrary Mary indignantly. "Of course not! I never allow a caterpillar in my garden. Besides, who ever heard of caterpillars wearing rose leaves for clothes. The ugly things wear fur!"

"And as for spiders," put in Miss Muffet, "let me tell you they don't have company to tea. The cheeky things come to other people's parties without being asked."

"I know what it is," spoke up Nancy. "It's fairies, isn't it?"

"Yes," smiled the Riddle Lady, "and the prize is a lovely pink rose. If you know where there are any fairies, you can make dresses for them all."

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle Ray

CHAPTER 94

Bold Sailors of Phoenicia

Close to the Land of Two Rivers was a little country called "Phoenicia" (The way to pronounce it is Fe-nish-a.)

Phoenicia was noted for its brave sailors who sailed and rowed far and wide over the great Mediterranean sea. For three or four hundred years they were the world's chief sailors.

The reason those sailors are important is because they spread knowledge to the towns and cities they visited. Their country had learned things from both Egypt and the Land of Two Rivers. The Phoenician sailors passed the knowledge along to people with whom they traded.

What did the Phoenicians have to sell?

Garments of woven wool, glass perfume bottles, blue porcelain dishes, ivory combs, platters of bronze and silver, golden ornaments and splendid robes. The robes were made purple by the taken from a certain kind of sea snail.

What did the Phoenicians get for these things?

From Northern Africa they got ivory, ostrich feathers, and gold. From what is now called Spain, they received silver, iron, lead and copper. Spices and jewels came to them from countries which traded with faraway India.

Now and then the Phoenicians built little towns on islands or coasts of the sea. One of these was Carthage in Northern Africa. Carthage later became a city of great power.

"Guess I'll go outdoors and play," decided Billy Cut-out, running to his room for his coat. When he got there, the coat was nowhere to be found. Though Billy looked and looked, his coat was gone, too, and even his muffler. "Must be thieves in this lodge," he muttered. He ran to tell the innkeeper.

"Why now I thought I saw you outdoors just a minute ago," chuckled the old man. Billy was puzzled. "Just go to the window and you'll see yourself out in the snow," he continued. Billy ran to the window.

"Who's trying to play a joke on me?" cried Billy. In the snow was the old snowman the children had made. He had on Billy's clothes and a sign with top-sorry letters, said: "My name is Billy Cut-out."

"I'm going to have a snowball fight with the person who did it," announced Billy disappearing.

The snowman should be very honored to wear Billy's brown coat, brown and green muffler, and brown cap.

PASTORS REGRET 2 DEPARTURES

Pass Resolutions Praising
Coughran, Blackstock

Resolutions expressing the regret of the Port Arthur ministers because of the departure from this city of two of their number, Rev. W. I. Coughran, who left Monday, to become pastor of the First Congregational church at Indianapolis, Ind., and Rev. W. E. Blackstock, assigned by the conference last month to Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, San Antonio, were adopted at the recent meeting of the Ministerial Association.

The resolutions are as follows:
Resolution on Rev. Coughran: "Our fellow pastor, Rev. Wm. I. Coughran, after a long and profitable pastorate in our city, is now retiring to another city, wherein he thus a large field and a strong church for which he is fully qualified as a Christian overseer."

"Brother Coughran is a man of quiet, unassuming dignity, and a leader of distinction. He is a man of literary ability, and scholarly attainments. His vision of the service of the church is broad and far-reaching. He knows the mighty powers of education and particularly its effect for righteousness, in the hearts and lives of the youth of the land. He has a passion for social service, and all phases of education, both within and without the church."

"He has wrought a good work here; he is held in high esteem by his church and his fellow Christians in other communities. It is with a feeling of regret that we see him go, but it is our feeling too that he is a man of power and that God has called him to a larger field of usefulness."

"May the Master's rich blessing abide upon him and his labors."
In Christian faith, the Ministerial Association of Port Arthur, Texas.
REV. C. W. CULP, President.
REV. R. R. YELDERMAN, Secretary.

Praise Rev. Blackstock

"It is with genuine pleasure that we of the Ministerial Association of Port Arthur, Texas, bespeak our appreciation of our fellow pastor, Dr. W. E. Blackstock, retiring pastor of the First Methodist church of this city."

"Dr. Blackstock is a genuine Christian gentleman. We note this as an unqualified statement, without any mental reservations whatsoever. During his stay in our city, he was always found on the right side of every moral issue that arose. He stood strongly against every form of evil sin and worldliness. His church and the whole city knew where he stood. For righteousness and clean living, he was a modern crusader; a helper to his fellow Christians and a power for God. There is no such thing as fear in his makeup, and whenever great moral issues arose Brother Blackstock stood like a flaming fire against the side of wrong."

"He made a large place for himself in the hearts of his fellow preachers, and in the heart of the city. It is with regret that we see him depart from our midst but recognize that wherever he goes, he will still be the power for the church and for righteousness that he was in our city."

"May the Master's blessing be upon him in his labors elsewhere."
In Christian faith, the Ministerial Association of Port Arthur, Texas.
REV. C. W. CULP, President.
REV. R. R. YELDERMAN, Secretary.

Arrest Follows

Seizure of Still

Ownership of the still confiscated by police yesterday afternoon in a raid on 305 West Thirteenth street last night was charged to Frank Lissotta when he was arrested at his home.

Previous to the arrest of Lissotta, Ben Banana, storekeeper next door to the residence where the still was found, was held, as was Lissotta's wife, but the woman and Banana were released.

In the raid yesterday afternoon police seized a still, coil, fire gallons of moonshine liquor and destroyed some 200 gallons of raisin and apricot mash. Lissotta had not given bond at noon.

Mixed Numbers

THOUSANDS GO TO SEE LENIN

Roads Blocked For Miles
Out of Moscow

MOSCOW, Jan. 25.—So many thousands of peasants are pouring toward Moscow from all parts of Russia, to pay honor to their dead leader, Nikolai Lenin, that roads and railroads are blocked for miles. It became necessary to postpone the funeral from Saturday to Sunday.

Many View Body
An incessant stream of persons still passes slowly and reverently by the simple bier where Lenin lies. To view the body for a brief instant one must stand for hours in line in the biting cold.

Many people, who are in line here, however, and many, after their brief glance at the waxen-faced, hairy across the set square to the chapel of the Iberian Madonna and order, a mass read on behalf of Lenin.

Nations Send Respects

The respects of the diplomatic corps, representing countries that recognize the government—Lenin founded, were paid by Count Brockdorff-Rantzau, German envoy, who took his turn in line and reached the coffin at one o'clock in the afternoon. In a letter to the Petrograd Soviet, Minister Zienkoff proposed that the name of Petrograd should be changed to Leningrad. The assembly carried the motion amidst an oration.

THRIFT WEEK

Spend Time and Money Wisely
IN PORT ARTHUR

One Dollar spent for Gas Service will buy as many heat units as Two Dollars and eleven cents ($2.11) spent for electric service. This is conclusive. A bountiful supply of gas is available in Port Arthur and we have in stock 45,000 feet of gas mains waiting for people to ask for justified extensions to our present twenty-four miles of mains.

Why Consider Anything Else When

Gas Service Costs much LESS.
Gas Stoves cost much LESS.
Gas Stoves have ALWAYS been installed free by the Gas Company.
Gas Cooks much BETTER.
Gas is QUICKER—Save Time.
Gas Stove Maintenance is much LESS.
Gas Service in Port Arthur is practically PERFECT.
Gas is superior in every way to any other form of heating Service.

Every Woman Knows—

THAT the quality of heat is vital to good cooking results. A moist heat is penetrating and cooks the interior of bread or meats and food shrinkage is LESS.
THAT good baking or roasting calls for initial high temperatures followed by lower temperatures.
GAS alone gives this perfect control without waste.
GAS alone gives a moist heat because water vapor is formed by the combustion of the hydrogen in the gas with the oxygen in the air. (The combustion of 1000 feet of gas forms one gallon of water and in vapor form ideal for baking or roasting).
OTHER FORMS OF HEAT DO NOT DO THESE VITAL THINGS.

Perfect Control

The range of heat control with gas is practically unlimited. Electric control is limited to a few heats. Gas is quick, saves time—often a half hour to a meal—Burning heat instantly if desired—Simmering heat at the touch of a finger—No heating elements to wait on and burn out.

NO WASTE NO ODOR NO SMOKE

You can buy a fine gas stove, pay for service pipes and save enough on the combined cost, compared with any equivalent electric stove, to pay gas bills for a year or more with the money saved. Easy time payments, too.
